so easy, so click!

ClicKit is the new audio kit line designed by Aci Farfisa for all one or two-way solutions. Installing the kit is as easy as a click, ready for installation, because it is versatile, because the push-button panel has a new appealing look, because all items are compact, because the most simple electronic call technologies are available, because it is for 1 or 2 users.

And if you don't think it's enough ...

then have a look at the details of the new Click external station: reduced dimensions for best solution in case of small spaces, such as gates or columns, high resistance and protection level, excellent quality/price ratio, anodized aluminium front plate, large name plate backlight with elegant white LEDs, version for surface or flush mounting, call confirmation guaranteed for external user.

ClicKit includes all installation elements, from the Click external station to the Exhito elegant internal unit and power supply.

The packaging is modern, practical and contemporary. Aci Farfisa presents 8 types of kits according to technology, installation mode of the external station and number of users to solve all types of one or two-family applications.
